- Eve moved that David stay chair-passes unanimously
- Terri announced there will no longer be city council liaisons for Commissions.

Year in Review

Boise 150

Amy presented a brief Boise 150 re-cap.

- 50,000-60,000 were reached through BOISE 150 programming and events. She mentions several monthly events including: January 4-Steelheads Game, February-Thinking 150 Weekend, April- Shenanigans Fight for the Capital with ISHS, July 7-Sesqui-Party, making note that 2,000 volunteer hours were clocked at this event and approx. 20,000 people attended. She also mentioned the September Mayor's Awards for Arts and History, the Bieter Ball in October, and the upcoming Sesqui-Shop Open House on December 21.
- Over 18,000 people visited the Sesqui-Shop and that programming will continue in the shop next year.
- The Sesqui-Speaks program which over 1400 people attended. Remnants of Boise, Fettuccine Forum, and Re-Art are also mentioned. There were 36 Re-Art events throughout the year with an average attendance of 10-16.
- Boise at 1-5-0 book signing, CD In Our Town that has sold over 500 copies and is now on iTunes, School Essay contest with 505 essays and 48 winners, 40 Grant funded projects, department projects by Parks & Recreation, Office of the Mayor, Public Works, and Police.
- Fire Departments upcoming historical exhibit in January
- Plat tours
- Urquides public art dedication, Trolley dedication, and the Memorial Bridge Projects.

Public Art

- Karen reported that public art finished 8 projects since the last meeting. There are 19 more completed traffic boxes, and the traffic circle is complete and will be dedicated in the spring. The 10th and Main Heliotrope piece has been installed, as well as the bike tree at 14th and Grove. She also mentioned installation of a piece at the zoo and airport.

- There are currently 3 public art calls out, and 3 finalists have been picked for the City Plaza project
  - Eve asked about the names of the finalists and Karen said they will be in the A&H office.
- Margaret said that the traffic boxes in Boise are superior to other cities' that she has visited.
- Karen ended her report with mention of the Ben Victor sculpture at Micron.
- Josh reported that the River Sculpture is moving into Phase 2 and he broke down the funding. Alecia asked about a timeline, and Josh says more information will be known once the scraping has been completed.
- Josh reported that 28 pieces have needed corrective maintenance. The Oregon Trail Memorial Bridge is all but complete with installation of bronze medallions beginning in the spring. He is working with PDS regarding structural changes at the A& H office. He announced the completion of traffic box maps and handed them out.
- Terri mentioned that 13 more traffic boxes will be coming in the spring.

History Committee

- Eve reported that the committee had a planning session where 5 sub-committees were created. They have been looking at a plan for the Arts and History Center, redefining the Fettuccine Forum with a change of venue, future plans for the Jensen farm, expansion of plat tours, and new oral history projects. She thanks the staff and welcomes new graduate fellow Kaci Nicks.
- Terri mentioned that the Share Your Story exhibit will be at the shop till December 21, and is still up online.

Review FY14-15 Department Work Plan

- Terri reported that A&H staff met over the year regarding the new budget, the A&H mission, and development. She mentioned the city strategic plan and explained its terms of effect on A&H. A&H has been applying for national awards for the BOISE 150.
- Terri detailed A&H review regarding duplication of cultural services within the city. The future of A&H includes: continuing collaborations, evaluation of space, external community engagement, engaging with city council, educational engagement opportunities (art and history), external communications, and shop programming.
- Alecia asked what are commissioner's roles and responsibilities. Terri felt this is a topic that needs to be explored further. Eric also expressed interest in more opportunities for involvement, and he will reach out to other high school students to raise awareness.

No further business

RE: January – February 2013, report

BOISE 150

Staff presented the results of BOISE 150 to Mayor and Council on February 11, including an overview of the process and goals, attendance estimates, financial status, and next steps and long-term needs for the community based on the success of the program. Staff received recognition from Mayor and Council for their excellent work. The Sesqui-Shop re-opened on February 6 with a new exhibit (Art in Traffic), lectures, workshops, and presentations.

Partnerships

The Boise State University's Department of Community and Regional Planning (DCRP) program at BSU approached A&H about becoming a community partner in a collaborative "tri-course" curriculum project for this spring. The innovative curriculum program aligns three core courses with a community partner to undertake an applied research project. The overarching framework is "Narrate Boise's History through its Neighborhoods" with the applied component of explaining how and why neighborhood history should inform investment decisions. The project uses historical data to inform community investment decisions; the results will include an exhibition in the Sesqui-Shop in May.

A faculty member from DCRP and an associate dean from BSU also approached A&H about their a research project that involves arts economic development (AED); they believe that AED is a productive research endeavor and is a good fit for their complementary expertise in economic development, planning and fine arts. They want to test the viability of using the Treasure Valley as a study area to leverage their expertise, as AED is inherently conducive to applied research. This pilot study is intended to generate two outcomes. The first is to begin incubating a new research cluster as a way to increase research capacity at Boise State. The second is to define an AED problem in Boise that we can solve through future research activity and investment. We are enthusiastic about their project and are supporting their effort by helping reach stakeholders, providing previous research data, and more.

Please let me know if you'd like the full proposals for both of these university-city collaborations.

Staff has also worked closely with DBA and CCDC on the new Wayfinding project, including co-hosting a meeting of stakeholders (arts and cultural groups) regarding locations to be identified in city.

General

A&H staff is busy moving cabinets, desks, computers and more in anticipation of construction this spring. We will be in a mess for several months.

The draft plan for "sustaining Boise's art, archives, and artifacts" is completed and will be shared with key city staff regarding next steps.

I'm serving on the review panel for Boise Weekly's grants. Other staff have served recently on the grant review panel for ICA. Josh Olson is taking part in ICA's "change leaders" program, where he is in training with other arts administrators statewide. This is the third group to be trained in the program (from WESTAFF and the State of Utah's arts agency).
